Super Saturday Seminar Descriptions:

Beach Buddies: This is a new Cloverbud curriculum offering leaders/educators a series of experiential activities they can do with youth before going to a beach, while they are at a beach and after a beach experience. Activities introduce simple science and conservation concepts to young Cloverbuds as well as build social and developmental skills. Activities utilize their imagination, creativity, curiosity, senses, and more. A teaching kit supports the curriculum and consists of discovery tools, beach animal replicas, storybooks and more.

Taught by FL 4-H Science Coordinator, Karen Blyler

Exploring Science: Using popular children’s books, science experiments, and creative and recreational activities, you’ll create easy-to-use kits to introduce Cloverbuds to scientific concepts.

Taught by 4-H Agents Whitney Cherry, Niki Crawson & Julie P. Dillard

Budding Gardeners: Learn how to cultivate youth’s mind with group and individual learning experiences that promote a love of gardening and agriculture as well as developing and appreciation for the environment.

Taught by 4-H Agent Dr. Paula Davis & Bay County Master Gardeners

Rabbits & Poultry: Explore opportunities for teaching small animal science. Learn about breeds, good animal nutrition and about Zoonotic diseases from a USDA veterinarian. Your kit will include information from the seminar, activities to encourage belonging, games, surveys and the Cloverbud Project Summary.

Taught by Regional Specialized Agent Georgene Bender, 4-H Agent Angel Granger & USDA Veterinarian Dr. Mary Gessert

Visual Arts: Arts & crafts are fun and educational! Learn how arts & crafts are similar yet different. We will get hands-on with project ideas that are truly “Learn by Doing”. You will leave with a kit to get your group started as “Cloverbudding” artists.

Taught by 4-H Regional Specialized Agent Heather C. Kent

VOLUNTEERS: Complete form & turn in along with payment to your 4-H Agent by Dec. 1, 2014.

If you require special accommodations, contact your 4-H Agent by December 1.
