- A study done by huffington post.com found that young people who go to see movies and hang out at the mall regularly are more likely to volunteer. The researchers hypothesize that this is because these activities are indicative of strong social networks.

Becoming a 4-H Volunteer 7

All volunteers who work directly with youth (who are not their own children) when serving either on an ongoing basis, unsupervised, as an overnight chaperone, or any other time deemed necessary by 4-H faculty and staff must complete background screening. Volunteers must also complete the Youth Protection Training.

When all requirements are satisfied, volunteers are appointed to their roles by the county 4-H agent.

4-H Delivery Methods

How 4-H Reaches Youth 10

- 4-H offers youth fun, safe, and inclusive learning environments to meet their need for belonging. 4-H reaches youth, ages 5-18, through the following ways:
- Organized 4-H clubs
- 4-H school enrichment programs
- 4-H special interest/short term programs
- 4-H school age child care education programs
- 4-H camping programs
- 4-H individual study/mentoring/family learning programs
- 4-H instructional TV/video programs

4-H Teen Volunteer Roles

11

- There are many ways in which teens can volunteer, based on their time, interests, and abilities. Below are a few examples:
- Counselors/CIT's
- Teacher Assistants
- Co-instructors(shooting sports, etc.)
- Member of the County 4-H Association
- Community Service

Long-lasting benefits

- Teens' insights mirror recent research on volunteering. Community service not only benefits society, it enriches the lives of people who provide it. Young volunteers have higher self-esteem, perform better in school, build leadership skills, and learn how to solve community problems better than their counterparts who do not volunteer.
- Teens clearly need ways to learn about social issues that will then turn their empathy, interest, and compassion into action.. Above all, volunteering needs to be fun and relevant to teens' lives—two top reasons why teens choose and continue to participate.
