

Jill Breslawski

Family & Consumer Science, Extension Agent I
(850) 689-5850/ (850) 892-8172
jbreslawski@ufl.edu
3098 Airport Rd.
Crestview, FL 32539

Educational Program Focus:

- Nutrition and Food Safety
Provide education, information and assistance to the community with making healthy choices to better their health and well-being. Offer support with interpreting and implementing dietary guidelines, meal preparation and planning, physical activity, practices to help manage food-related illness or conditions, food safety & foodborne illness prevention programs.
- Financial Management
Provide education, information and assistance to the community to be money-wise; when creating effective savings plans and budgets, credit and debt management, goal setting, decision making, and balancing future needs and wants, to encourage financial stability.
- Local Sustainability and Agritourism
Provide education, information and assistance to the community with selecting, purchasing, preparing, and preserving foods grown and produced locally. Support for Farms, Farmers' Markets, and other businesses featuring regional bounty to increase awareness of agricultural processes & utilization of products.

Work Experience

2015-Present		Family & Consumer Science Agent UF/IFAS Okaloosa/Walton County Extension
2008-2014	7 years	Produce Market Manager Albion, New York
2007-2015	8 years	Family & Consumer Science/Health Teacher Alexander, New York

Education

2011	Master's Degree	Career and Technical Education	SUNY Buffalo State College
2006	Bachelor's Degree	Health Science	SUNY College at Brockport